

Contents

List of Illustrations	ix
Acknowledgments	xiv
Introduction	1
Marijo Gauthier-Bérubé and Annaliese Dempsey
1. Assessing Shipbuilding Variation in Late Seventeenth-Century France: A Case for Shipwright Agency	14
Marijo Gauthier-Bérubé
2. Becoming Jack Tar, Saltwater Slaves, and Hostis Humani Generis : The Vessel as a Center for the Construction of Identity	37
Annaliese Dempsey
3. Archaeology of French Piracy in the Seventeenth and Eighteenth Centuries between the Caribbean and the Indian Ocean: Frigates, Prizes, and Material Culture	64
Jean Soulat and Annaliese Dempsey
4. In the Wake of the Saint-Malo Fishermen: Archaeology of the Seventeenth- and Eighteenth-Century Triangular Cod Trade	84
Appendix: Cod-Fishing Routes, 1604 to 1736	109
Gaëlle Dieulefet and Brad Loewen
5. Pêcher à Miquelon : Transatlantic Trade, Local Networks, and Martiniquan Cuisine	117
Mallory Champagne and Catherine Losier
6. Maritime Archaeology of Saint-Pierre et Miquelon (France): From Documentary Sources to Field Practice	147
Cécile Sauvage, Éric Rieth, and Élise Nectoux

Conclusion	173
Marijo Gauthier-Bérubé and Annaliese Dempsey
Index	177